Seafood Officials Discuss Commercial Dredging On Reefs

Observations...

By UDELL

A note to Supervisor, Beat 5... The beach road from St. Charles street to Clermont Harbor is in bad shape. Can't something be done about it? It would make riding along the beach a pleasure instead of a chore... This road necessitates raising in a great many spots... If not fixed, sooner or later, some unfortunate person may obtain grounds for a suit that cannot be defeated in any court...

Monday, while riding through Beat 3, it was discovered that a man and his two children had escaped injury when the front end of their automobile fell through one of the rotten bridges in this beat... This family was refused assistance by the Supervisor and was forced to call Gulfport for wrecker service... A word to the wise, better get these bridges in all beats fixed before the County will have more on its hands than it bargained for...

Highland Realty Company has purchased the O. W. Delph home and land on Dunbar avenue and has opened the Highland Subdivision... The road in the subdivision has been named Commagere Lane in memory of the late Forster Commagere who devoted his life to the youth of this community, and in the near future, homes will be built there...

The coaxial cable is being placed under the Bay of St. Louis this week. By July 1, T. V. owners will be able to get all programs direct...

The Credit Bureau of Hancock County has been organized by W. R. Johnson Jr. and James A. Ryan... The purpose of this organization will give necessary credit information, unbiased and without prejudice, on individuals in the County... It will be in operation starting May 15, 1952... For additional information write box 326, Bay St. Louis...

Students in Bay St. Louis schools are getting ready for summer vacation... Bay High will hold its annual commencement exercises Friday, May 23... St. Stanislaus will graduate its senior class Sunday, May 25, and St. Joseph Academy will hold its closing exercises, Saturday, May 31...

Perrin, LaBruzza Reign At Festival

Miss Bettye Perrin, in a gown of white nylon tulle, reigned as queen of the St. Joseph Academy May Festival Saturday night, her king was John LaBruzza.

The form fitting, bodice was made with a scooped, neckline trimmed in acorned pleated ruffles, sparkled with rhinestones and sequins. The long, full skirt had a draped overskirt with sequin designs. Her sequin trimmed train was of the same material. She carried a jeweled scepter which was topped with an orchid.

Miss Joanne Lang, second maid of honor, wore a dress of white nylon tulle made with a full skirt, trimmed in ruffles and a nylon lace bodice, finished with an off-the-shoulder neckline and short cap sleeves. She carried American beauty roses, and her head piece was of the same flowers.

The first maid of honor, Miss Joyce Garcia wore a white embroidered organdy gown fashioned with a scalloped bodice set off by a regal brooch. The flowing skirt was also scalloped, and she carried a cascade arrangement of red carnations.

The maids and their junior maids entered from the stage and were met at the foot of the steps by the dukes and their junior dukes.

Forty-two maids, their dukes and junior maids and dukes, made up the court.

To Give Recital

Mrs. Carl T. Smith will present her students in a piano recital Monday, May 12, at 8:00 p. m. in Bay High auditorium. Friends and relatives of the students are cordially invited to attend.

Live oyster reefs in Mississippi Sound will not be damaged by commercial dredging of centuries-old oyster shell deposits on Buoy reef, members of the Mississippi seafood commission stated last week. This is a good source of revenue to develop other reefs.

Awarded by contract to Heartland Trading Company of New Orleans by competitive bid last year, the dredging has been the target of criticism by seafood interests in Biloxi.

In the mean time, the Biloxi group had requested Governor Hugh White to give them a hearing on their protests in an attempt to have the dredging halted. White had earlier notified them that the seafood commission has full jurisdiction over the matter.

Although once a thriving natural reef, Buoy reef had become a graveyard of growing oysters, according to Dr. E. A. Hopkins, who heads the Gulf Marine Research Laboratory at Ocean Springs, because of the high salinity of the water in which conchs and other enemies of oysters thrive.

Charges by the opponents of dredging of the Buoy reef were that: 1. The shells had been sold at price "inconsistent" with the cost of shells for replanting reefs. 2. It would destroy live oysters on the reef and 3. Silt from the dredging operation would damage other reefs in the area.

Officials of the seafood commission, headed by chairman Walter Gex, Bay St. Louis, held the inspection last week to determine the validity of the charges made against their action in turning the Buoy reef over to commercial dredging of its 30-foot thick shell deposits.

"We feel we were fully justified in awarding the contract, because we acted on the information and knowledge that Buoy reef is a dead reef and contains valuable deposits of shells for commercial use," Gex declared. The dredging contract was awarded in February, 1951, to Heartland, he said, as the highest and best bid of three bids received. It was let on unanimous vote of the five-man commission, he pointed out.

"When the contract was let, the price we got—10 cents per cubic yard—was the highest of any price paid for dead reef shells in any of the Gulf coast states," declared State Rep. Reece Bickelstaff, Gulfport, who is attorney for the commission.

Dredging of the reef for oysters was not begun until earlier this year until the seafood commission decided from information received from Dr. Hopkins and also James N. McConnell, chief of division of oysters and waterbottoms of Louisiana department of wildlife and fisheries who is considered the leading source on waterbottoms in the Gulf coast area.

McConnell told the commission, Gex said, that the silt created by dredging of dead reefs is usually dissipated within 400 feet of the dredge.

In a week-long inspection of the dredging at Buoy reef, Meo Filich, chief inspector of the seafood commission, reported that no silt was found beyond a radius of 1 mile of the dredge.

The nearest live reef to the dredging is Pass Marianne reef which is four miles away.

Dredging into the deposit of shell on Buoy reef had reached a depth of 17 and one-half feet, Rutledge Caldwell, deputy seafood commission inspector stationed at the dredging rig, reported.

Dr. Hopkins said that the shells which could be easily crumbled, were of oysters which existed on the reef "before white men had settled the coast."

The shells from the depth at which the dredging was in progress, he said, were of oysters which "died of old age." Most oysters were three to eight years old when they died, he said. Some oysters were as long as 10 inches. Shells taken from the reef are being shipped by Heartland to a cement plant at Baton Rouge, the seafood commission officials declared.

None of the $360,000 appropriation made by the 1948 Legislature to replant oysters, on the hurricane-damaged reefs on the Gulf Coast was used on Buoy reef, commission officials said. Gex estimated that at the present rate of dredging of the dead reef that the sea food commission will get $100,000 this year for cultivation of other reefs.

Some other Gulf states, he said, have received as much as $500,000 a year from commercial dredging of dead reefs.

Holy Name Society Starts Membership Drive In Bay Area

A membership campaign for new members into the Holy Name Society of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church has been announced. Representatives are now in the field canvassing Bay St. Louis for new membership into this society which has four million members in this country alone.

Main objectives of the society are the honoring and reverence of the Holy Name of Jesus, the suppression of blasphemy, profanity and indecent language, to prevent perjury and to impart to Christian men courage in the profession of their faith.

The Holy Name society dates back to the year 1274 when it was formed to combat the ravages of heresy prevalent in those days. Present members of this society may well be called combatants against the forces of Communism and other evils that are present in this world today.

Men of the parish who have not yet joined the society, are urged to do by their pastor. Anyone interested may contact the society's campaign chairman, Edm. J. Doussan at 102 Uman Avenue for further information, or by phoning 1043 or 553 or by contacting any member of the Holy Name Society.

Dr. Tedder is said to have been among the first discoverers of the fact that use of sulphur drugs is sometimes followed by toxic dermatitis. He was author of a standard essay, "Kaposi's Varicelliform Eruption," cited in textbooks.

A native of McComb, Miss., he grew up in Sumrall, Miss., and attended the University of Mississippi. He was graduated in medicine at Tulane University and pursued postgraduate studies at the University of Minnesota in skin diseases. He began the practice of medicine in New Orleans 16 years ago.

He was on the staff of Touro Infirmary and Baptist and Charity hospitals.

He urges that all farmers who have carried out a winter cover crop practice under the 1952 program report such practice no later than May 15, 1952, otherwise, the assistance cannot be granted.

May 15, 1952 has been designated as the final date for reporting performance on winter cover crops. Fittzugh Lee, chairman of the Hancock County Production and Marketing Administration Committee, announced this week.

In Memory Of Forster Commagere

by Dr. C. M. Shipp

Why is it civilization does not move forward to a higher and nobler plane of prosperity and happiness to which we would aspire. The terrible handicap blocking our progress to these ideals is the triumvirate that bears the name of Ignorance, Poverty and Ill Health. These evils depend one on the other to reach their goal. These injurious processes seldom work separately, they follow a pattern of symbiosis, live and let live, each being helpful to the other in accomplishing their ends. There is no greater curse than ignorance. The blind man can see the physical objects about him but he will never see what is on the inside. Ignorance is the barrier to a full understanding and will rob any one of beautiful contemplations of why a thing ticks and the reason and causes that precede effects. With ignorance the door to reason is permanently closed and she operates on a geological flat system. Ignorance may have its compensation but the most that can be said in its behalf in this state of affairs is that it bears only a little or no responsibility, and from this group we get no leadership and a sorry following; in fact, in many instances exactly the opposite. On the other hand all responsibility rests on those, who by training and experience, know better but frequently refuse to act. A doing nothing attitude by the leaders in a community is responsible for many of our ills.

There is no item of expenditure that cuts more deeply into our economy than our school program; this is as it should be. This item does not include the many millions spent in building construction, including playgrounds and youth centers for recreation, or money spent by our colleges and universities in preparing to teach those who have chosen the teaching profession. Our teaching staff comprises the cream of our intellectual group who have not spared time nor energy in fitting themselves for life's work. Why is all this being done? Well, here is one intelligent answer. Disraeli once Prime Minister of Great Britain had this to say: "The greatest asset of any nation is its youth and future citizen." Nothing worth while is ever gained except by a determined resolve, sacrifice and effort to remedy a bad situation wherever it may be, by the people that make up the community in which they live. There is no way to measure the good that can be achieved by a determined group of people with a fixed idea on a program for the common good. There is no cause more worthy than making plans for the children, the future citizens of our community. Whether he is good or bad depends on our attitude and plans or on our neglect on his bringing-up and his environment. We usually get what we plan to get, whether or not we are present at the planning.

If we do not want absenteeism in our schools, juvenile delinquency, illiteracy or other objectionable qualities to creep into our social make up we should plan to prevent it. There is nothing so deplorable and inexcusable as to see a person who cannot read or write and see him sign his name with an X in this land where so much is being done to correct this evil. There is a legislative act in our statute that reads "Every child of school age must attend school at least 80 days during each school year." This act was passed no doubt shortly after our constitution was adopted in 1890. At that time most of our schools were small and located in the rural section. Ninety percent of our people were living in the country. The idea prevailing at that time was that food was the most essential item in our lives. If we did not work from day light until dark, we would starve. This idea came to us from colonial times and has stuck with us much too long. Every member of the family was required to make his or her contribution to this plan. Legislators at that time are no different from today. They were reluctant to make a change in our daily lives by passing new laws. The risk of losing votes was too great. Why pass a more stringent law when we cannot enforce more lenient laws? Same old story of not going to the root of the evil.

There is only one way to prepare the future citizen for this complicated life we are living today. He must be well informed. There is only one place where we can annihilate illiteracy and that place is in the school. With the school advantages offered today, there is no excuse for the blot of illiteracy in Mississippi.

TO THE EDITOR:

It has come to the attention of the League of Women Voters of Bay St. Louis that a group of citizens are interested in studying the city manager type of government for the Bay.

While the League has no stand, either for or against this type of government, it does have material on the subject, compiled by other leagues, municipalities and the M. E. C. and would be glad to have anyone who is really interested, read the material.

It is the League's intention, at some time in the future to study the various forms of city and county government, and members will be glad to form a group to discuss in an unbiased and non-partisan way, these various forms.

Yours truly,
Adaline K. Samuel, secretary

Bay Jrs. Defeat N. O.

The Bay St. Louis Mighty Mites sparked by the brilliant three hit pitching of Larry Mathes dropped the Shrinemites of New Orleans 8-2 in a 5 inning contest at Morreale's Park Sunday afternoon.

The Bay team, which has dropped only one game in four scored in the first frame as Kenny Artigues drew a pass and went to second on a bunt by Ronnie Hendrickson. He scored from second on a single by Donald Strong. In the third, with two men on, Walter Cox lifted a pop fly over the infield to score Artigues from third and Strong from second. Then with the bases loaded, Sidney Doussan blasted one through the middle to push across two more tallies.

The Shrinemites came to life in the top of the fourth to combine three hits to get their two runs, but the fire was quickly put out by Mathes who struck out the next two hitters. The Bay Mites added 3 runs in the bottom of the fourth when Artigues drilled one over second and went to third on a wild throw in an attempt to get Hendrickson at first. Strong drove one through the infield to score Artigues and Hendrickson went to third. He scored on an error by the second baseman of the Shrinemites.

...FOR YOU...FOR YOUR FAMILY...AND

Our Goal: TO REDUCE ACCIDENTS IN BAY ST LOUIS

- Here's a sensational new safety program, developed by the Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corporation and pioneered in this area by your Chevrolet dealer.
- It's a fact that many traffic accidents result from mechanical failures in the automobiles involved in the accidents. These are avoidable accidents.
- This long-range program is based on recurring safety inspections. It can eliminate a great share of the mechanical failures which result in accidents.
- Very little is required of car owners. All you do is bring your car to our Service Department. We do the rest.
- ...AND THERE'S ABSOLUTELY NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION TO YOU!
- Your Chevrolet dealer, as an important contribution to American safety, assumes the whole cost for the "Safe-T-Way" inspections.
- COOPERATE FOR SAFETY
Act now for greater safety... for you, your family and our community. And encourage your friends to act, too.

Whereas, the said Supervisors District No. Five of Hancock County does not owe any indebtedness incurred under the aforesaid statute and the notes herein directed to be issued will not require the use in the retirement thereof in any one year of more than 1% of the amount available to the said Supervisors District No. Five of Hancock County for the maintenance of roads and bridges for the preceding fiscal year; and and said bid appearing to be the best bid, therefore, on motion of Supervisor Hubbard, duly seconded by Supervisor Jones, the bid of Mississippi Road Supply Company, was unanimously accepted.

Resolution R. G. Hubbard

On motion of Supervisor Hubbard, that the following be filed: In reply to the motion of Supervisor Jones at the meeting of March 3, duly seconded and passed, Supervisor Hubbard voting therefor, to spread the resolution on the minutes of the Board, I now make a motion and request that it be spread on the minutes of this Board, that the matters and things set forth in this resolution are true and are not based on any facts or circumstances which the past minutes of the Board will agree on.

I further and distinctly want it to be understood that I welcome the use of the County prisoners on the Roads of Beat 3, and that the said gas used for the transportation of said prisoners to the job may be taken from the fund provided by law. I, therefore, my intention to use County prisoners contrary to the provisions of Section 8342, Mississippi Code of 1942, wherein it recites that quote, "Road hands shall not be required nor permitted to work with convicts." Unquote.

I wish to call the Board's attention to Section 9342, Mississippi Code of 1942, which recites that quote, "The Supervisor of each District in each County is to have and is required to exercise general supervision over the public highways of his District." Unquote, and which statute makes me responsible for the supervision of the roads in Beat 3, and therefore it should be my prerogative to appoint foremen and employees who are responsible to me for the upkeep and repair of said roads in Beat 3.

It is apparent that Supervisor Jones is attempting to dictate to Beat 3 by attempting to bring men from his Beat into Beat 3 as a Supervisor, or Road Foreman, as is evidenced by his motion to appoint Charles Murphy.

Purchase Used Road Machinery District No. 3

MISSISSIPPI GOT 155 NEW TELEPHONES EACH WORKING DAY IN 1951

Every working day last year, Southern Bell workers installed an average of 155 new telephones in Mississippi.

"They connected a total of 48,641 new telephones in 75 out of Mississippi's 82 counties. Over 6,500 of the new installations were in rural areas."

During the year the number of Southern Bell subscribers in the state passed the 234,000 mark. Today you can call more than twice as many telephones in Mississippi as you could call in 1945.

Each year expansion and improvement increases the telephone's value for subscribers everywhere—makes it more vital to the prosperity and security of our state and nation.

The Japanese Priest Said: "DOMINUS VOBISCUM"

It was early Sunday morning in Tokyo. A cosmopolitan congregation had assembled in the Catholic church for the first Mass of the day. Along with the Japanese present, there were English, French and Portuguese sailors, the family of a Belgian diplomat, Filipino business men and a sprinkling of U. S. Military Police.

The Japanese priest was compelled to start the service without an assistant to answer the prayers. He had hardly begun the Mass, when a burly GI rose from his seat, walked to the altar and took the place of the absent server.

"At first," he said afterwards, "I felt a little strange serving a Jap priest in a Jap church. But after he turned around and said in Latin: 'Dominus vobiscum'... I felt just the way I did when I served Father O'Malley in our church back home."

"Dominus vobiscum!"... "The Lord be with you!"

How familiar and homelike those Latin words sounded... to the English, the French, the Portuguese Belgians and Filipinos... for they had heard them Sunday after Sunday in their own church at home.

Despite their language differences, each could follow the prayers of the Mass... and the actions of the priest. For each had a double-column prayer book—one column in Latin, one in his native language.

Many services of divine worship in the Catholic Church are conducted in the native language of the people. But the Mass... the official and world-wide act of Catholic worship... is generally conducted in Latin because this dead language never changes and is most appropriate to express the fundamentally unchanging worship instituted by Christ at the Last Supper.

Perhaps you have heard Catholics speak of the Mass... or have seen them thronging to Mass on Sunday and other days. If you would like to know more about the Mass... and why the Mass attracts millions of Catholics to church regularly... we will be happy to send you a free pamphlet explaining the Mass and reasons behind it in a clear-cut manner. OPS NEWS

Auctions of farm machinery, used machinery, tools, and used industrial construction machinery and related equipment are subject to ceiling price regulations, Robert W. May, District Director of the Office of Price Stabilization in Jackson this week reminded the public and the trade.

Auctioneers of these items, he said, are required to furnish the District OPS Office with written notice at least six weeks before a sale. The written notice must state the place, date and time of the auction and must be accompanied by a copy of any announcement of the sale. If farm machinery is to be sold, a general description of the equipment must be included with the written notice. If industrial or construction machinery and related equipment is to be sold, the categories must be stated.

Mr. May said the following ceiling price regulations apply: C-PR 80 covering used machine tools; C-PR 105 for used industrial and construction machinery and related equipment; and C-PR 100, farm machinery.

NEW BAKERY CEILINGS
 New ceiling prices for the $4.7 billion perishable bakery product industry will take effect on May 10. General effect of the regulation will be to permit bakers to adjust ceiling prices allowing them to realize the level of profits required under OPS earnings standards. This will result in a slight increase in price level of most bread products and a somewhat greater increase in present sweet goods price levels.

However, Ceiling Price Regulation 135 may result in reductions in ceiling prices of some bread products sold in large volume by bakers whose annual sales total over $100,000.

Small bakers who sell more specialized products, such as cakes, pies and sweets or other descriptions, may have slightly higher ceilings since they are forced to use more manual labor in the production of their goods.

New ceiling prices will be based upon 1949 prices plus a 16 percent markup to compensate for production cost increases. In adjusting bread prices, bakers must file specified forms with the Jackson District OPS.

Copies of the regulation are available for the guidance of bakers. Requests should be directed to the Jackson District Office of Price Stabilization.

SERVICE CEILINGS

Home appliance dealers and their customers may be benefited as a result of a new regulation which permits manufacturers to apply for uniform ceilings on services dealers perform for the manufacturer as part of his guarantee to the customer. The order applies to new appliances or new models of existing appliances.

Supplementary Regulation 16 Ceiling Price Regulation 34 establishes a method by which a manufacturer of nationally distributed home appliances may obtain OPS approval of uniform ceilings on warranty charges his dealers and distributive organizations make to him.

Defence Digest

A joint compendium of news from all U. S. Regional defense agencies produced in the Information Division, 5th Regional Wage Stabilization Board, Atlanta, Ga.

Important changes in the defense Bond program have been announced by the Treasury Department. Small investors may now purchase bonds in greater amounts than permitted heretofore, and "E" Bonds, the most celebrated, now pay more interest and accumulate it faster. A new form of so-called "savings" bond—to be known as Series "H"—will shortly be available to the average income investor. This all adds up to good news to inveterate bond buyers who have already made the "E" Bond the most widely held and popular security in all history.

Allocations of materials for the third quarter of 1952 under the controlled materials plan of the National Production Authority are now being made to southeastern manufacturers by Department of Commerce-NPA officers in Atlanta and Birmingham with indications of a slight easing in amounts for those who must apply under the program. Small users of steel, copper and aluminum, the three controlled metals, need not apply.

Defense Administration figures show that plant expansions in the six southeastern states to meet the national defense effort total well above the one billion dollar mark.

Authorized expenditures by defense industries since June, 1950, when the Korean War broke out, by States: Alabama, $310,698,000; Florida, $191,475,200; Georgia, $212,993,300; Mississippi, $122,426,900; South Carolina, $83,749,382 and Tennessee, $214,850,107. Federal Civil Defense Administration has announced the appointment of a Warden Coordinator for the six southeastern states. He is Edgar P. James, a native of Lumpkin, Georgia, a graduate of Emory University and a veteran of World War II. He has just completed courses at the Federal Civil Defense Staff College in Maryland and at the Technical Training Center in Pennsylvania. He will work with state civil defense directors in developing state programs for Air Raid and other Wardens.

Communicable Disease Center of the Public Health Service, Federal Security Agency, has issued technical manuals on fly, mosquito and rodent control during emergencies. Although designed for peacetime use, the Federal Civil Defense Administration has declared them to be "equally applicable to civil defense disaster relief operations." State and local health departments may get copies of the manuals from regional offices of the Public Health Service, by writing the Communicable Disease Center, U. S. Public Health Service, Atlanta.

State Agricultural Mobilization Committees in the southeast are urging farmers to increase their corn crop acreage and to boost the per-acre yield to meet this year's production goals. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's goal for corn and feed grain production this year are higher than last year since, in the past two years, the use of feed grains for livestock and poultry has been greater than production and reserves are low. Chairman of the State Agricultural Mobilization Committees point out that the average per-acre yields of corn can be increased considerably by the use of adapted hybrid seed, proper fertilizer and soil improvement practices.

Incidentally, a survey of the fertilizer situation made by the Production and Marketing Administration reveals that supplies of nitrogen and potash for farm crops this year will be somewhat lower. The supply of phosphates, however, is expected to be lower. FMA also warned that the improvement in the nitrogen and potash situation could be upset by an increase in industrial uses, or a change in military requirements.

Violations of Wage Stabilization regulations were urged by the regional board in Atlanta this week to petition for permission to grant wage increases even though they have been illegal in effect for some time. Many violations have been inadvertent and a petition before the board prior to the time a field investigator discovers the contravention will be "duly considered" by the enforcement division of the agency, a spokesman declared. Approval of a petition, however, does not fully excuse the violation even if the approval is retroactive to the time the illegal payments began. Any field office of the Wage and Hour Division, U. S. Department of Labor, can provide more detailed information.

Office of Price Stabilization reports that the retail price of Irish potatoes is expected to be lower this month due to a seasonal increase in production. . . Soybean oil meal, an important livestock feed, will have ceiling prices $7 per ton higher at the processor level under a new OPS regulation designed to reflect more closely the relationship between the price of this commodity and other comparable feeds, such as corn. Peep-Eye Taxation

Every worker who counts the cash that is withheld from his wages in the form of withholding tax, who makes an income tax return or pays advalorem taxes, feels the bite that is being taken.

But the hidden or peep-eye levies the consumer pays "the butcher, baker and candle-stick maker," including the excise taxes collected by states and cities on every purchase, take a bigger chunk out of one's wages than the income tax he pays the government.

The Tax Foundation, a private research group that checks on government spending, has figured out the invisible taxes we pay. The foundation's findings, for instance, show that on a $3,500 income the average family pays $799 in hidden taxes - $249 to merchants and manufacturers, $302 in retail sales and excises, $160 for social security and $108 in realty and minor taxes. Incidentally, income taxes for this average family total $299.

Business editors of Newsweek Magazine report that when a purchaser plunks down $2,000 on a new car, $624 of the amount (31% of the purchase price) is hidden taxes. On items like coal, gasoline and cigarettes the hidden tax accounts for more than the actual price of the product. On a loaf of bread, a pound of meat or a quart of milk, the tax comes to at least half the real value.

Sound economists agree that a tax load of 25 cents on the average citizen's dollar is about as much as a government can extract without destroying a people's economy. Already the average American is paying 32 cents - 7 cents above the danger line.

Unless there is a tax retreat this nation will expend itself. The only relief lies in Federal and local frugality.

How on earth can a wage earner save anything for the future when he's one jump ahead of the tax collectors? How can we create new capital, except through savings? How can we give the willing worker the incentive to produce if taxes take more of his wages than he is permitted to spend or keep?

If we are to hand down to our children the kind of a country we inherited from our fathers, there must come soon a great groundswell of public opinion for honest, clean, economical government. America stands at the crossroads, between solvency and bankruptcy.

NOVELIST DEPARTS FROM PASS CHRISTIAN

Miss Elizabeth Spenser, who has made her home in Pass Christian for the past year, and who wrote her book "This Crooked Way," and many short stories while here, has returned to her former home in Carrollton, Miss.

Miss Spenser was well known in literary circles here and her latest book is receiving much attention. While all critics have not been favorable, her book is dis-cussed widely and Miss Spenser has the satisfaction of knowing that it is not a "sleeper."

MARGARET LUBAN VISITS TOWN LIBRARY HERE

Miss Margaret Luban, Librarian in Asheville, North Carolina, has been a recent guest of Mrs. Reggie Page. While here, Miss Luban paid a return call to the Town Library and discussed with Miss Jean Knost, librarian, plans for the Children's Department.

Miss Knost said: "Miss Luban's suggestions for the children's department were most welcome." Miss Luban will visit in Panama and take a cruise to Honduras before returning to North Carolina.

CHEST X-RAYS GIVEN SCHOOL CHILDREN TUESDAY

On Tuesday, students from the Pass Christian schools were given chest X-rays by the Harrison County Health Department. The X-Ray equipment was parked near the City Hall and teachers from the schools assisted by filling in information slips and assisting the children through the formation lines.

This excellent County Health service, given free to all citizens of the County, is a safe-guard to public health, for T. B. when discovered in the early stages can be successfully treated. If X-ray shows lung troubles notice is sent out by the Health Department within two weeks. If no notice is received within the two week pe-riod, healthy lungs are indicated.

TENNIS PLAY-OFF IN GULFPORT FRIDAY

Pass Christian public school was represented in the tennis play-offs Friday held at the Gulfport public school courts. For the boys' sin-gles Harold DeMetz palyed; boys' doubles were Gordon Parker and Girls of the Home Making De-partment are still talking about their "Bed Roll" party at school. Next morning they didn't have to go to school—they were already there! With nothing to do but fix breakfast. It was a good party. Thanks to Mrs. G. Orrell, of Home Making Department.

"MAY IN YOUR GARDEN" DISCUSSED BY IVAN ANDERSON AT MEETING

When the Pass Christian Garden Club held its regular meeting last Thursday in the Trinity Episcopal Parish House, Ivan Anderson, speaker for the day, discussed May-Time in gardening.

Mr. Anderson, now living in this locality, was formerly a land-scape artist in Washington, D. C.

Following the regular meeting a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Norman Conery, chairman of the entertainment and refreshment committee for the day, was assisted by Mesdames C. D. Taylor, Jr., C. Randall Jones, Jr. Archie Smith, and Misses Maud and Julia Frye.

FATHER LEO DOWLING AND MRS. JESSE ROUX COMPLETING HI SCHOOL STUDENTS

High school students from the St. Joseph Parochial School and the Pass Christian Public School assembled in the school's auditorium on Monday afternoon at two o'clock when Father Leo Dowling of Xavier Hall and Mrs. Jesse Roux presented a program to illustrate the similarity between the pure English novel and a sonata.

Mrs. Roux, who received her musical education at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Eng-land, played a movement from Beethoven Sonata, while Father Dowling explained how a simple theme of music was enlarged upon by the composer and the various movements were finally put into a summary.

Then, Father Dowling showed how George Elliott in the novel, "Middle March," used the theme

POPPIES TO HONOR NATION'S WAR DEAD

"Wear a Poppy to honor the war dead and aid war's living victims."

This is the appeal that will be made to everyone in Bay St. Louis and Waveland by the American Legion Auxiliary on Poppy Day, May 31. It has been announced by Mrs. Gordon Romanoff, Poppy Chairman of the Clemons R. Bon-temps Unit of the Auxiliary.

Women of the Auxiliary will be on the street throughout the day, offering the symbolic memorial poppies and receiving contribu-tions for the Auxiliary's work in behalf of disabled veterans and needy children of veterans.

The poppies will be made of paper replicas of the wild poppies which grew between the crosses, row in row, in the battle cemeteries in France and Belgium. They have of marriage in the novel and de-veloped the theme through some 900 pages. Novelist Elliott is said to have developed the purest style of English novel.

Mrs. Roux also played "Nola." Before coming to Xavier Hall Father Dowling taught English at Loyola university in New Orleans.

been made for the Auxiliary by disabled veterans of both World Wars.

"This year the Poppy will have added significance because of the long lists of war dead from Ko-rea which have been added to the heroic roll of those who have died for America," Mrs. Roman-off said. "Also there will be in-creased need for the Poppy Day contribution because of the many thousands of young men disabled in the Korean fighting. We hope that everyone will understand that the memorial poppy means honor for the nation's war dead and aid for those suffering as a result of war service, and will wear one of the little red flowers proudly on Poppy Day."

The health of your children is protected by CONCRETE SEWERS

Unseen and seldom considered by the citizen, sewers nevertheless play a vital part in protecting the health of his family. And the best protection is afforded by strong, durable, concrete pipe—the kind that serves dependably through many decades and keeps sewage flow safely confined within joint-tight walls—cuts leakage and "infiltration" to the minimum.

Concrete Saves Taxpayers Money
Your municipal sewerage represents an important investment. Concrete protects that investment! It resists corrosion, rust and decay. It is moderate in first cost and serves for decades with the minimum of maintenance expense.

Population has outgrown sewerage systems in many cities. Urge your officials to plan new sewers using safe, economical concrete.

DREDGING

The commission now has under way a project to test three ways in which to cultivate oysters. Three areas of five acres each have been established in Pass Christian reef for the test.

The bottoms of two of the areas was completely cleaned by dredging. One of the areas will be left bare and the other replanted with seed oysters.

In the third area, the oyster bottoms will be "plowed" to separate and scatter the oyster clusters on the bottoms.

All live oysters taken off the reef from the two cleaned areas are being planted on Square Hancock reef off Bay St. Louis.

When notified of his election, Father Vinmagede stated that "those who are connected with the project must lean heavily on the grace of God and bespeak the prayers of the church at all times - and God's grace, with the prayers of His people." He said "that he hoped that the voice of John Keble would be continued in Keble College and that it would strive to combat apostasy and secularism and to proclaim the paramountcy of the Apostles' doctrine and fellowship in behalf of Christian education and sound learning."

ANNOUNCEMENT

We take great pleasure in announcing the OPENING of

Highland Subdivision

This property was selected by the developers because of its high elevation, being one of the highest in Bay St. Louis, its close proximity to the beach, depot and new highway, lying in an area where new and modern homes will be built.

After purchasing the site for a subdivision, the next job to do was to find a suitable name for its street. We called on our City Fathers to help us out on this selection. It was unanimously decided that it should be called after Forster Commagere whose name will also be remembered as a great lover of boys. Through his great interest in boys, today Bay Saint Louis can proudly boast as having one of the highest standards of mores of any community in the country.

HIGHLAND SUBDIVISION will consist of about 40 building sites. All homes will face Commagere Boulevard a 40 ft. Street. No home can be built on less than a 60 ft. site. All depths will be 130 ft.; all homes will be set back 20 ft. from the property line.

Plans are being completed now for four modern homes to be built by the Highland Realty Company, owner of the development.
